

During the four weeks prior to our fiscal year end we used four temps from the St. Louis NACM to make mass collection calls to many of our smaller accounts freeing up time for the credit staff to contact the larger accounts. The individuals that NACM provided all came to us with prior credit experience so little training was required. They "hit the floor running" and met every expectation I had of them. If this experience is any indication of what I should expect, I'll be calling on NACM again for my temporary staffing needs.
